SPARC–Responsible Leader Program (RLP)

Revised 12/22/2023

This document details the supplier requirements for the Responsible Leader Program. Please read and understand the details below, which will help explain what needs to be done and why.

After implementation, there may be additional requirements to comply with this program. These may include regulatory updates, additional assessment or audit requests, actions required resulting from an audit/assessment, or any other requirement Intel deems necessary due to a change in the risk landscape.

RLP Program

Intel has high expectations when it comes to sustainability and the suppliers it collaborates with. Intel created this program to recognize suppliers for exceptional responsible sustainability leadership.

Supplier expectations include:

- Suppliers will manage active deliverables on time through SPARC
- Meet all EPIC sustainability expectations
- Displaying Innovation in one or more areas covered in the SPARC Programs
- Suppliers displaying exceptional leadership will meet all EPIC sustainability expectations, plus display Innovation in one or more areas covered in the SPARC Programs
- Reviews RLP with Intel twice a year
